

NorthBankJoggingRoute

A gentle five kilometre jog that offers pleasant scenery and the hustle and bustle of London. You'll pass by the Thames and see the silhouette of The London Eye, Westminster, and beautiful architecture of old and new parts of the city.

WhatDirection?

- From SACO The Cannon, turn left out of the building then right up Queen Victoria Street.
- Before you reach Bank Station, take a sharp left on to Cheapside and follow the road continuously, passing St Paul's Station on your left.
- Continue along this road, passing Chancery Lane station, until you reach the junction at Southampton Row. Turn left, and you'll pass Holborn underground Station and keep going along Kingsway.
- When you reach the curved junction, turn left on to Aldwych Street, following Arundel Street down to the river with Temple Station on your right.
- Turn left along the river past Victoria Embankment Gardens, then follow the curve of the road left towards Blackfriars Station, and onto Queen Victoria Street.
- Keep following the road for just under two kilometres until you reach Mansion House tube Station, then turn right up Cannon Street towards SACO The Cannon to finish.

There's an app for that

While enjoying your jog around The City, be sure to use MapMyRun, which uses GPS tracking, recording your time, distance, speed, and even calories burned! Share your run with us on Facebook, Twitter or Instagram, and we'll share it back!

